- The right business mix
- Lack of attractive dining/entertainment options
- Business viability
- Empty storefronts. Encouraging smart investments

DESIGN

PROMOTION

PERCEPTIONS -

- Perceptions about what makes a Downtown successful
- Building a destination location, based upon a positive image
- Unwarranted negative public sentiment.

THREATS

- find ways to bring people downtown while encouraging smart investments in downtown.

- things to do

- business community could work together better and have more comradery
- Community / Citizen Support

LEADERS SURVEY: OPPORTUNITIES

ECON/VITALITY

MORE BUSINESSES / MIX

- DINING OPTIONS – diverse range of restaurants, bars, at least one fine dining
- RETAIL - More to do when in Downtown, spend a day shopping and eating
- Finding niche retail
- Niche stores
- support entrepreneur lifecycle

HOUSING / DEVELOPMENT

- Increased downtown housing, apartments
- utilization of 2nd/3rd floors;
- Attracting and capitalizing on Cannabis consumers traveling to Coldwater
- We need incentives to get people to invest in the City.

DESIGN

PHYSICAL IMPROVEMENTS

- Streetscape improvements
- Updated streetscape that is more inviting to pedestrians
- pedestrian amenities in/near downtown
- Building redevelopment. Randall parking lot reconstruction with public event space. Streetscape upgrades

- cluster marketing;

CULTURAL & FAMILY ACTIVITIES

- cultural integration/inclusion (festivals and events led by community members from more diverse backgrounds)
- More events, activities.
- opportunity to get more people to come back to their hometown with families.
- Anything that increases walkability and diversity of business type.

ORGANIZATION

LEADERS SURVEY: WORKING PARTICULARLY WELL

ECON/VITALITY

MOMENTUM & SUPPORT FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

- DDA and City are focused, which will hopefully help attract businesses to downtown.
- City Collaboration better than it's been in years past
- The desire to develop Downtown Coldwater is greater
- State and local incentives towards redevelopment projects (e.g., DDA rebates, low interest loans, OPRAs, & CRP funds)
- City economic development team/assistance
- additional housing, dining, office service
- In the last year we've seen positive private investment in downtown.
- Redevelopment of the four corners, improvement rebates/grants
- Availability of state and local incentives. City staffing. City Council support.
- Facade reimbursement program seems pretty good.

NEW IDEAS, ACTIVITY

- Testing new events such as Hops on Monroe
- Monroe St. as event/social area
- New ideas and openness (like Hops on Monroe) are helping
- Citizens seemed engaged and want to come downtown for events.
- Hops on Monroe has been a positive for some local establishments, particularly with addition of small brew pub.
- Hopefully people coming for that event are reminded that downtown is there and will come back again.
- Monroe Street Development has been positive/Street Type festivals seem to be positive
- The mural is a nice addition
- inclusion in the Main St. America Program.

LEADERS SURVEY: NOT WORKING PARTICULARLY WELL

ECON/VITALITY

- RENT COSTS - Analyze the rent and taxes in Coldwater. Residential rent is outrageous for median income. Is Commercial rent the same?
- Retail success
- Getting full participation of downtown businesses in the development process.
- Too many open storefronts. Need to find ways to connect those interested in downtown with those that own the empty buildings
- Business recruitment / attracting and retaining new business
- Recruiting retail, right mix
- Additional zoning to help balance the types of business that are allowed downtown.

DESIGN

- Continued prioritization of vehicles pedestrian "beg" button;
- demolitions of buildings for parking lots; difficulty of crossing
- Better use of park space and seating to foster community connection and interaction;
- Putting money into the 4-Corners park area makes no sense. Having a "park" here at all makes no sense, when there is parking only for half of it, it is cramped, has not much in the way of trees, and due to all the traffic is so amazingly loud, polluted, and dangerous to traverse.

PROMOTION

- Old events that need to be reimagined;
- Outward marketing

ORGANIZATION

- need more grassroots support and ownership in projects
- Getting full participation of downtown businesses.

LEADERS SURVEY: ANYTHING ELSE TO KNOW ABOUT DOWNTOWN COLDWATER?

APPRECIATION

- The attention and assistance that the econ/dev team is providing to downtown business/building owners and developers is a phenomenal asset to the vitality of the downtown.

THIS SPACE IS NOT EMPTY... IS FULL OF OPPORTUNITY!

- The empty buildings need to be seen as opportunity and there needs to be an effort to fill the buildings with the right types of businesses and not just fill with any business. The survey will hopefully identify what people want for downtown
- Coldwater Lake folks can drive 10 miles north or south to be in a small Downtown. This is a wonderful opportunity to keep them in their own City and State."

THE RIGHT MIX

- Need to find the right mix of niche retail and service to fit among a number of restaurants.
- Coldwater has segregated new business investment in zoning districts near our interstate corridor for many years. This has resulted in the abandonment of our historic Downtown
- Would love to see more diversity and opportunities to dine and visit

POTENTIAL –

- See the potential and the excitement that is starting to build. Looking forward to focusing on our strengths and strategies.
- I'm excited about the possibilities, it's like starting with a blank slate which can be scary but can also lead to so many new ideas.

ATTITUDES & PERCEPTIONS –

- "What people say they want and what they will support are two different things. It would be nice to provide examples of what currently works and why and what hasn't and why. (Ex: Why hasn't a bakery been successful? If Taylor's was a successful business, why didn't anyone want to continue it? Same for the Lamppost and Chicago Ave and Northwoods, etc. Is this why there is hesitation to start a business Downtown?)
- An area of low income, low education, and low appreciation of the arts is a tough place to conduct revitalization. In an era of fragmented social media and lack of penetration of traditional media, there is no good way to get the word out short of time-consuming in-person visits.
- If a business fails outside of Downtown, the community seems to grasp the concept that the business failed due to its operations. Conversely, if a business fails Downtown, the community blames the City. Is the perception that the City owns all Downtown buildings and has some control of the respective businesses that operate within them?
- There just seems to be little community anymore. Maybe that's the time and people just don't care like they did 50 years ago, maybe it's politics and the splitting of everyone to subscribe to one ideology, one party, one side. Maybe it's a reluctance to embrace diversity, which is sad. I believe that if we could bring a togetherness, a community, a tolerance, and a getting-to-know-one-another, maybe we'd start caring, and wanting to congregate together.
- City government can't do it all and shouldn't be expected to. It takes volunteers to run events or serve on committees and boards. Building owners need to step up to make improvements to their buildings or sell to someone who will.

WHO ARE WE?

Residents in this segment live primarily in low-density, settled neighborhoods in the Midwest. The households are a mix of married-couple families and singles. Many families encompass two generations who have lived and worked in the community; their children are likely to follow suit. The manufacturing, retail trade, and health care sectors are the primary sources of employment for these residents. This is a younger market—beginning householders who are juggling the responsibilities of living on their own or a new marriage, while retaining their youthful interests in style and fun.

OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

- Married couples are the dominant household type, but fewer than expected from the younger age profile and fewer with children (Index 79); however, there are higher proportions of single-parent (Index 146) and single-person households (Index 112).
- Average household size is slightly lower at 2.51.
- Homes are primarily single family or duplexes in older neighborhoods, built before 1940 (Index 228).
- Most neighborhoods are located in lower-density urban clusters of metro areas throughout the Midwest and South.
- Average commuting time to work is very short (Index 22).
- Households have one or two vehicles.

SOCIOECONOMIC TRAITS

- Over 70% have completed high school or some college.
- Labor force participation is a bit higher than the national rate at 63.4%.
- Almost three quarters of households derive income from wages and salaries, augmented by Supplemental Security Income (Index 139) and public assistance (Index 152).
- Cost-conscious consumers that are comfortable with brand loyalty, unless the price is too high.
- Connected and comfortable with the Internet, more likely to participate in online gaming or posting pics on social media.
- TV is seen as the most trusted media.

WHO ARE WE?

Well settled and close-knit, Heartland Communities are semirural and semiretired. These older householders are primarily homeowners, and many have paid off their mortgages. Their children have moved away, but they have no plans to leave their homes. Their hearts are with the country; they embrace the slower pace of life here but actively participate in outdoor activities and community events. Traditional and patriotic, these residents support their local businesses, always buy American, and favor domestic driving vacations over foreign plane trips.

OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

- Rural communities or small towns are concentrated in the Midwest, from older Rustbelt cities to the Great Plains.
- Distribution of household types is comparable to the US, primarily (but not the majority) married couples, more with no children, and a slightly higher proportion of singles (Index 112) that reflects the aging of the population.
- Residents own modest, single-family homes built before 1970.
- They own one or two vehicles; commutes are short (Index 82).

SOCIOECONOMIC TRAITS

- Retirees in this market depress the average labor force participation rate to less than 60% (Index 94). More workers are white collar than blue collar; more skilled than unskilled.
- The rural economy of this market provides employment in the manufacturing, construction, utilities, healthcare, and agriculture industries.
- These are budget savvy consumers; they stick to brands they grew up with and know the price of goods they purchase. Buying American is important.
- Daily life is busy, but routine. Working on the weekends is not uncommon.
- Residents trust TV and newspapers more than any other media.
- Skeptical about their financial future, they stick to community banks and low-risk investments.
